NEGOTIATIONS ON PRISONER ISSUE BROKEN

Munsan, Korea, April 25—(AP)—The U. N. Command tonight proposed a full-dress meeting Sunday of Allied and Communist armistice delegations. The surprise move came six hours after the Communists broke off secret negotiations on how to exchange prisoners of war.

The U. N. gave no reason for suggesting a plenary session.

The Communists called off the secret prisoner negotiations after the U. N. Command announced it would return less than half the Reds captured in Korea.

The effect of the Red action was to remove the veil of secrecy from negotiations.

The prisoner talks were recessed at the request of Col. George Hickman, who said the U. N. Command wanted to reassess its position in the light of developments.

Neither side suggested truce talks were in total collapse. But grim Allied negotiators made no effort to mask the seriousness of the situation.

The Communists did not reply immediately to the request for a full-dress session.

The five-man truce teams of admirals and generals have not met since mid-February.

They still face three big hurdles to an armistice; U. N. demands for voluntary repatriation of prisoners and a ban on airfield construction, and Communist nomination of Russia as a neutral inspector.

The Reds ended the secrecy on prisoner talks six days after being told that only 70,000 of 159,000 prisoners of war and civilian internees wanted to return to the Communists.

The end of secrecy brought the first public disclosure that the U. N. Command proposes to return only 70,000 prisoners.

GOING TO INDIANA

Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Schmidt, 6 Sixth Avenue, left this afternoon for Indiana, Pa., where Mrs. Schmidt will visit for some time while recuperating from injuries sustained in a fall at her home recently.

Joseph Spence, art supervisor in the Warren public schools, is attending the Northwestern District Art Conference at Edinboro State Teachers College today.

REPORT CARDS

Warren borough school students, completing another six-weeks period, will receive report cards on Monday and will be taking them home for signatures on Tuesday.

Restaurants, Boarding Houses, Taverns, Hotels, Etc., Must Post Ceiling Prices

Washington, April 25—(AP)—Restaurants, boarding houses, taverns, hotels and hot dog stands must post publicly today their ceiling prices for food and drinks.

The Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) said the price posting order affects more than a half million establishments serving 70 million meals a day and doing more than 12 billion dollars of business a year.

Price Stabilizer Ellis Arnall said that through the posting of prices their customers now will be able to see the maximum prices they should pay.

The posters also will be a protection for restaurants against possible unfair accusations concerning prices they charge, he said.

The ceilings which restaurants, taverns and the like must post are the highest prices they charged during the week of last Feb. 3-9. The ceilings will remain fixed until OPS authorizes changes which will be based primarily on significant movements in the wholesale food price index of the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

There will be one exception. Establishments which on April 7—when the price freeze became effective—were charging prices lower than the Feb. 3-9 period have until June 1 to determine their new ceilings.

Separate posters must show food items and non-alcoholic beverages, and alcoholic and malt beverages. If less than 40 food and non-alcoholic beverage items are offered, all items must be listed. If more than 40 items are available, the 40 principal items must be listed.

The alcoholic beverage charts must show ceilings and quantity in ounces of up to 20 different drinks.

DRAGONETTE OUT

A brand new ten-page issue of the Warren High School Dragonette made its appearance at school today, with Dawn Taft as issue editor. School affairs in general, the usual editorial comment, and special features on the Allegheny National Forest and the trout-stocking program for Warren county streams make up an enlarged and very interesting publication.

'Personal Ultimatum' Remark By Truman Leads to Unhappy Tongue-Clucking in Capital

Washington, April 25—(AP)—President Truman's off-the-cuff assertion that he forced the Russians out of Iran by a personal ultimatum to Premier Stalin led to some unhappy tongue-clucking in high quarters today.

A press office "clarification" of Truman's extemporaneous statement at a news conference yesterday pointed up the embarrassment occasioned by this and other offhand remarks that have raised eyebrows around the world.

British newspapers splashed the "ultimatum" story under such headlines as "Sensation at Truman Talk," and "Blunders by Mr. Truman."

In diplomatic language an "ultimatum" is regarded as a step just short of war. Roger Tubby, assistant presidential press secretary who formerly worked at the State Department, told reporters afterward that Truman had used the word in a "non-technical, layman sense."

The note in question, he said, was not one from the president to Stalin, but a note from this government to the Russian government on March 6, 1946, published the next day, stating this country's position against Russia's continued occupation of Iran.

"As you probably recall," Tubby said, "The Russians withdrew their troops from Iran in May 1946."

Truman cited the Iran matter in outlining some of the actions he and other presidents have taken to meet national emergencies. He was talking about his seizure of the steel industry to prevent a strike.

The important thing the president wanted to emphasize, Tubby said, nearly three hours later, was that Russia listened to a strong America, and that he had to seize the steel industry to keep up the production necessary to building up this country's strength.

The president, he said, was referring to United States leadership in the United Nations, particularly through diplomatic channels.

He said the note of March 6, 1946, was a major factor in bringing about Soviet withdrawal from Iran.

FEDERAL LAWYER CLAIMS PRESIDENT NOT LIMITED BY THE CONSTITUTION

30 KILLED IN TURRET BLAST ON A CRUISER

Tokyo, Saturday, April 26—(AP)—Thirty American seamen were killed in an explosion in a gun turret on the Cruiser St. Paul off Korea Monday. The Navy, announcing that today, called it the worst naval disaster of the Korean war.

The Navy said a "gun powder fire of undetermined origin" set off the explosion in an 8 inch forward turret. A board is investigating.

The St. Paul is commanded by Capt. Roy A. Gano of Falls Church Va. She is the flagship of Rear Adm. Earl E. Stone, commander of Cruiser Division One.

The St. Paul was firing on Communist positions on the Korean east coast. It continued firing after the blast and still is in Korean waters.

Communist shore guns were not firing at the American warship.

The blast rocked the heavy cruiser. All 30 victims were killed the Navy said, most by asphyxiation due to burning gases. There were no injuries. All victims were in the turret.

The worst previous naval disaster of this war was June 21 when the U. S. Destroyer Walke hit a mine off Wonsan. Twenty-six were killed and 40 wounded.

The St. Paul was firing on a Red rear stronghold at Kojo, about midway between the battle line and the besieged Red port of Wonsan.

The Navy said the St. Paul had opened up her guns on Kojo after bombarding Red front lines for 24 hours with the Destroyer Brinkley.

Immediately after school dismissal this afternoon, members of the YWCA Y-Teen department took their stations on busy corners of the business section to do their bit in promoting the 1952 Cancer Crusade through the two-day Tag Days sponsored by the Warren Business and Professional Women's Club.

With the YWCA activities building as their working headquarters, the girls will continue their street sales through this evening, until nine o'clock, and will be back on the job all day Saturday until stores close at five o'clock.

The sponsoring club will offer from its own treasury cash prizes for the girls collecting the most funds in the two-day Cancer drive and competition will be keen among the young saleswomen.

Similar Tag Days are being held in Tidoute, Youngsville, Russell, and Sheffield in an effort to reach the $5,000 goal set for the county in 1952.

Goepingen, Germany, April 25—(AP)—The 28th Infantry contributed more money to the 1952 American Red Cross drive than any other division-size unit of the European command.

Led by the 112th Infantry regiment from Erie, Pa., the Division contributed an aggregate total of $19,209.62, about $8,000 more than the division contributed last year.

ON JUDGING TOUR
Dr. LeRoy B. Campbell, Warren Conservatory of Music head, will leave tonight for Chicago and other western points to conduct a judging tour for the National Piano-playing Auditions. He will hear and grade approximately 300 students.

PLAYERS ELECT
Henry Walker, for years an active figure in affairs of the Warren Players Club, was elected president of the group at the meeting held last evening at the Woman's Club. Named to serve with him were Mrs. Fred Enhardt, vice president; Mrs. Marion Sleeman, recording secretary; Jean Steele, corresponding secretary; Robert Trusler, treasurer; Marie Weissenshuf, properties chairman; James Bailey, stage manager; William H. Muir, business manager; Mrs. Raymond Steber, trustee to fill out term of Mr. Trusler; with Byron Knapp and F. L. Plummer as the remaining trustees.

JAYCEES KEYNOTER
Butler, April 25—(AP)—Rep. Hugh D. Scott Jr. (R-Pa.) will be the keynote speaker at the 14th annual convention of the Pennsylvania Junior Chamber of Commerce at York May 3. Joseph D. Davidson, Jr., of Butler, president of the Junior Chamber, said about 400 Jaycees from 83 chapters in the state will attend the convention.

NINE-MATCH SCHEDULE
From all indications the Warren High Dragon wrestling team will have a new school added to their 1953 schedule, making a nine-match season. The new addition would be Erie East High School in a home match, with Titusville, Oil City, Grove City and Johnsonburg listed in home and away events.

Hippocrates--$8,000 Plus!

KNOWN AS THE FATHER OF MEDICINE, and a good old Greek in his day, Hippocrates would be amazed to know that his statue, now decorating the front of the new Warren General Hospital, is causing such a furore 2,509 years after his birth! Born in 557 B.C., he had three more years to live to reach 100 when he died in 460. But wherever he may be, perhaps old Hippocrates is wondering, along with hundreds of Warren residents, whether it is true that architectural changes at the hospital, made necessary by installation of the statue, came to $2,500, making the total cost $10,500.

Signals and Gates For "FN" Crossing

According to word received by county commissioners, the Pennsylvania Railroad and the New York Central Railroad have filed application with the Public Service Commission for the installation of flasher signals and short-arm gates at the FN crossing just west of the Warren city limits. The new equipment would replace the 24 hour watchman service now maintained at the crossing. Railroad officials say the new system would provide greater protection at this awkward crossing, which involves three sets of tracks and a steep grade.

Fatal Plane Crash Near Clearfield

Clearfield, April 25—(AP)—A light plane exploded and burst into flames 12 miles east of Clearfield, killing two sailors en route back to their Lakehurst, N. J., base from Chicago where they had been on leave.

Names of the victims were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

State police said the privately owned craft was consumed by flames within a few minutes after it crashed last night.

Cpl. Robert Rice of the State police said identification of the two victims was established through personal effects found near the scene of the crash.

Rice said a make shift log found near the charred ruins showed the men had been in Chicago and had stopped for refueling at Toledo and Youngstown, Ohio.

Bids for Marienville School Are Revealed

Harrisburg, April 25—(AP)—The State Public School Building Authority has received bids totaling $324,149 for construction of a high school building at Marienville, Forest county.

The unofficial low bidders: General construction, L. O. Bouquin Co., Oil City, $230,000; heating and ventilating, David N. Brown, Bradford, $42,749; plumbing, Charles L. Pike, New Castle, $27,000; electricity, C. Beckley, Inc., Warren, $18,000, and laboratory equipment, William M. Kishpaugh, Hershey, $6,400.

Members of News Writing Class At Press Conference

When the high school press conference, sponsored by the department of Journalism of the Pennsylvania State College, convenes on the college campus tomorrow morning, 22 members of the Warren High School news writing class with Miss Clara Spade, their instructor, and one student from the business department of the school, under Miss Jean Steele, expect to be in attendance.

The names of those making the trip are Gerry Aguiar, Beverly Chapman, Betty Eggleston, Rachel Kaebnick, June Odmark, Sally Reed, Dawn Taft, Robert Burgess, Richard Genberg, John Mangus, Ben Pastrick, George Scallise, James Sturdevant, and Dean Velling, seniors; and Mary Bauer, Nancy Cannon, Joyce Chapman, Patricia Larson, Patricia Pastrick, Lois Radapinner, Susan Robertson, Joan Sagimbene and Lindsay Steen, juniors.

Philip G. Reed, managing editor of International News Service, and a journalist of more than 20 years experience in this country and abroad, will be the chief speaker at the opening session of the conference. His talk will be entitled, "My Experiences on the Street of Ink." Adrian O. Morse, provost of the Pennsylvania State College, will open the session with a talk (Turn to Page Six)

General Chairman Jack Barr of the Junior Chamber of Commerce July 4th celebration committee, received word today that the Grey Knights, first place winners of the Class A drum and bugle corps competition at the 1951 celebration, will again be in Warren for this year's parade and competition.

Formerly affiliated with the American Legion Post in Greece, N. Y., the Grey Knights now represent the big Emmerick-Schofield-Richardson Post 952 in Rochester, N. Y., and are expected to be a big drawing card at this year's celebration.

Emphasis is being put on plans for fire department representation and word already has been received from a department in Mingo Junction, Ohio, that it will compete. About 120 fire departments, many of them represented in last year's convention parade at Youngsville, have been contacted, and this part of the day's activities is expected to be outstanding.

Chairman Barr and Ben Kinney, chairman of the advisory committee, met last night at Hackney Meadows with the American Legion and Marine Corps League representatives to work out additional plans for the Marine Corps band parade and concert, July 5.

CLASSES MAKING TOURS
The Warren High School home economics classes, under the instruction of Miss Marie Weissenshuf, have been keeping busy the last two days making visits to various local business establishments.

On Thursday the sixth period class visited the Virg-Ann Flower Shop for a demonstration on flower arrangement and the second period girls learned about new furniture styles at Waxman's Furniture Store. Today, the third period class was given a demonstration of a clothes dryer by Rosemarie Irrgang, of the Pennsylvania Gas Company, and saw the newest models in refrigerators.

The business session will convene at 11 o'clock.

Deputies from Trinity Memorial church are: F. C. Biekarck, William E. Rice, Robert E. Dunham, G. Weston Ensworth, Henry H. McConnell, and Glenn C. Warner. Alternates are W. T. Davidson, Donald E. Conaway, Howard Lemmon, L. N. Donaldson, Robert H. Trusler and Jay L. Pees.

W. E. Rice is chairman of the committee on arrangements and the committee which will act as host in behalf of Trinity Memorial church is composed of Ed C. Lowrey, Chester S. Allen and John G. MacDonald.

The Trinity Women will serve a luncheon to the lay and clerical deputies in the parish house Mrs. Katherine T. Davis, president of Trinity Women, will be in charge.

Man Locked Up for Thirty Days After Telling His Wife to "Shut Up" in Court

"Shut up!" were the two little words which sent Randall Goodard of Youngsville RD, out of the Court Room, this morning, and into county jail to start a 30-day sentence for contempt of court. Those two little words, shouted by Goodard at his wife in open court caused Judge Allison D. Wade to impose the sentence for contempt, say "Take him away!" and to continue the case against Goodard, a charge of assault and battery preferred by his wife.

Russell Nelson, Jr., of Clarendon, and Raymond C. Blodgett of Sheffield, charged with driving while intoxicated, each was fined $100 and costs, with Nelson sentenced to 30 days and Blodgett 10 days in jail.

Grant L. Bentley of Kinzua, charged with aggravated assault and battery, was ordered to pay $10 to Warren county, costs, and a jail sentence of 60 days was suspended.

J. F. Grinder, Corry RD 2, who was arrested and arraigned before Magistrate Perry E. Mead of Columbus township, on the complaint of his employer, A. L. Anderson of Erie, that he had fraudulently converted $309.50 of Anderson's money to his own use, was ordered to pay $25 to Warren county, pay costs, and a 30-day jail sentence was suspended.

The court was to consider five non-support cases this afternoon as well as a motion to discharge the defendants and dismiss charges against Harold Eland and Frances Sedlak Shulak, who were alleged to have misappropriated funds of the United Electrical Workers' Union when a split of the local occurred here.

PITTSBURGH "ALERT"
Pittsburgh, April 25—(AP)—The Army has sent 600 anti-aircraft troops and their guns to the Pittsburgh area. Civilian Defense officials at the same time said air observers have been alerted to go on 24-hour observation duty. The troops arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday. The Army said the troops came here "for field training exercises."

CORRY ALDERMAN
Harrisburg, April 25—(AP)—Gov. John S. Fine yesterday appointed Melvin S. Corbett, Corry, alderman for the third ward of that Erie county city to serve until January of 1954.

Discussion on Location of Proposed New Fire Hall Highlights Glade Twp. Meeting

Varied opinions regarding a possible location for Glade Township's new fire hall were expressed at last night's well attended meeting of the Glade Township Volunteer Firemen's Association, and it developed that each section of the township, which has a wide geographical spread, has its own individual problem to solve.

The location committee reported in favor of a location near the junction of the Irwindale and Cobham Park roads, feeling more men would be available at that point for a prompt manning of the truck in case of alarm. However, no definite action was taken and the matter was left in the hands of the members themselves, they to communicate with the divisional representatives and show what manpower is promptly available in all sections. Residents of the Conewango avenue extension area are to contact George Walker, those in the Fifth avenue section will consult John Allen, the Jackson street residents will see Harris Johnson, those living in the Cobham Park section are to contact Wilbert Knapp, and Clair Rapp will consult with those in the Hemlock street area.

No tank has as yet been located for use on the truck chassis, but efforts will be continued, and it is asked that anyone who has any suggestions contact President Don Curtis, who declared today that with 600 taxpayers and 480 property owners, he feels Glade township will eventually produce an adequate and valuable fire fighting unit.

The next regular monthly meeting will be at Irwindale school, Thursday, May 22.

Trinity Church Parish Host Saturday To Convention for Election of Bishop

Warren will be host on Saturday to about 150 laymen and 30 clergy of the Episcopal church who will attend a special convention of the Diocese of Erie, called for the purpose of electing a bishop to succeed the Rt. Rev. Harold E. Sawyer, who resigned early last fall.

A previous convention, held at St. Paul's Cathedral in Erie, resulted in a deadlock.

The convention, to be held in Trinity Memorial Church, will open at 10 o'clock with a communion service, celebrated by the Rev. Thomas L. Small, rector of Christ church, Oil City. Doctor Small, chairman of the diocesan standing committee, which is the ecclesiastical authority in the absence of a bishop, will also preside over the convention.

The business session will convene at 11 o'clock.

TO HEAR BROADCAST FROM CONFERENCE

The Allen Class and Men's Bible Class of First Methodist church will join at 10:00 a. m. Sunday in the church parlors to hear a 15-minute broadcast from the general conference of the Methodist Church, in session in San Francisco.

Following the radio program, the classes will remain together for the lesson under R. Pierson Eaton, teacher of the Men's Bible Class. Arrangements for the event are under the direction of F. E. Klesha, who will present Mr. Eaton to the joint classes.

Dr. Arthur Colley, pastor of First church, is in San Francisco attending the general conference, so the broadcast of the proceedings will be of considerable interest to members of both classes. The broadcast will start at 10:05 sharp, and a similar program will be broadcast at the same time for the next three Sundays.

The temperature of the bodies of birds is higher than that of mammals.

IN APPRECIATION
I wish to thank my doctors and nurses for my wonderful care during my illness and all the different churches and societies, friends and neighbors for flowers, cards and many acts of kindness.

Incentive and Profit Sharing Systems Discussed By Foremen

The Foremen's Club Management Development Group held another interesting discussion at the YMCA last evening with Clifford R. Betts, president of Betts Machine Company as the resource and answer man.

C. Irwin Hochhaus, moderator of the group, opened the meeting, and introduced Mr. Betts, who started the discussion by answering questions presented to him by the group. In supporting his points throughout the discussion

Mr. Betts cited numerous examples of plants where incentive and profit sharing systems have been in operation for years. Through the two hours of discussion, the whole field of incentive and profit sharing plans was explored under Mr. Betts' fine leadership.

The next and last meeting of the group in this year's series will be next Thursday when Robert Y. Kopf will be answer man. Ray Weber of DeLuxe Metal Furniture Company, is chairman of the committee in charge of these sessions.

AT MARCONI CLUBS

The two Marconi Clubs, the Town Club and the Outing Club, will be used this week-end in presenting the usual floor shows and dance, with Saturday night's program due to be held at the Town Club because of the big K. of C. banquet being held at the Outing Club. Lou Critelli, the host and M. C., will introduce Dot and Dash, radio and TV favorites, and Marilyn Miller, a lovely dancer, at the Town Club in two shows at 11 and 1 Saturday night, and at the same hours at the Outing Club on Sunday night. Ford Winner's orchestra will provide the dance music at both parties.

TODAY is pay day for all the folks who have classified ads.

FROM HEILBRONN, GERMANY, comes the above picture sent by WO/JG Lavern J. Schuler, USA, of Warren, and show that local members of Company I, 112th Infantry, enjoyed their part in the recent Red Cross drive. "The idea being that anyone giving a $5 donation would have his breakfast served in bed by the Company commander and the first sergeant," writes Warrant Officer Schuler. "This was instrumental in making Company I the first unit of the 112th Regiment to be able to report that 100 per cent of the personnel participated in the Red Cross drive." In the upper left picture M/Sgt Fernando Pace, of 1415 Pennsylvania avenue, west,

Professor of Political Science in the Wharton School to Address Alumni Here

Warren County Alumni of the University of Pennsylvania will hold their annual spring meeting on Monday, May 5th in the Blue & White private dining room. A large attendance of Pennsylvanians is expected to be present for the dinner and meeting that follows.

The University is sending as a special speaker, Dr. Edgar E. Cale, professor of political science in the Wharton school. Each spring the university sends out members of the teaching staff to address various alumni groups. Dr. Cale's itinerary includes Alumni Clubs in Westmoreland county, Pittsburgh, Warren, Bradford and Elmira and Binghamton, N. Y.

Members of the Warren County Alumni are requested to make reservations for the dinner on May 5th with D. E. McComas, by Wednesday, April 30th. Dinner will be served in the private dining room of the Blue & White at 6:45 with the annual meeting and talk by Dr. Cale to follow the dinner.

Dr. Cale graduated from the University of Pennsylvania with the degree of bachelor of arts in 1932. He received his master's degree in 1934 and subsequently earned the degree of doctor of philosophy from Pennsylvania in 1940.

During the academic year of 1941-42 he held a Penfield Scholarship from the Graduate School of the University, as well as a Rockefeller Foundation Scholarship. He devoted that year to travel and study in Chile and Argentina.

During World War II he served as coordinator for the Naval Flight Preparatory School at the University and later as civilian director of the Midshipmen's Refresher program. From 1946 to September 1949 he was director of the Summer School, director of the College Collateral Courses and director of the office of Naval Records.

While on leave of absence from the University, from September 1949 until June 30, 1951, Dr. Cale served as executive director of the staff of the Philadelphia Charter Commission which drafted the Home Rule Charter now in effect in the city of Philadelphia. This charter had the hearty support of all political factions and its adoption has already streamlined the entire political setup of our third largest city.

With the exception of the period during which he was associated with the Charter Commission, Dr. Cale has served continuously since 1944 as moderator of the University of Pennsylvania Forum of the Air. He is also serving as program director this year.

All alumni of the University of Pennsylvania are asked to keep Monday evening, May 5th, as an open date so they may attend the Alumni meeting and hear Dr. Cale's interesting talk. Reservations for dinner must be made by Wednesday, April 30th, with Donald E. McComas.

Troop 11 Charter Night Program Is Interesting Event

The attractive cafeteria rooms of the United Refining Company provided a perfect setting Wednesday night, for the annual charter night dinner of Boy Scout Troop 11 with, to quote Committee Chairman Don Zaprowski, "the tables appropriately decorated with plenty of good food." A varied assortment of tureens, prepared by the Scouts' mothers, provided a marvelous banquet for the 100 who were present. Mrs. Edward Flick was chairman of the dinner committee.

Mr. Zaprowski introduced various guests and troop officials after the Scouts had conducted an impressive opening ceremony by marching to the front of the room in full uniform and with color bearers.

Neighborhood Commissioner Carl Jones welcomed the guests and read "A Father's Prayer," and Mrs. John Trauffer, president of the Lacy PTA, which group sponsors the troop, thanked everyone for cooperation. Scoutmaster J. Richard Hedman expressed his appreciation for the help given, and outlined an active program for the troop during the coming summer, highlighted by the camporee and the troop's week-long visit to Camp Olmsted.

Byron W. Knapp, president of Warren County Council, was enthusiastic in his praise of the efficient and valuable work accomplished by Mr. Hedman and Troop 11. Mr. Knapp emphasized that whatever good is said of the Council's work it is always dependent upon the individual accomplishments of such troops as Number 11 which caused Mr. Zaprowski to exclaim in good humor "We do more by accident than most troops do on purpose!" Mr. Knapp, in presenting the four awards in connection with "Forward on Liberty's Troop," explained that Troop 11 is one of the few to receive all four.

Thomas Kittner was presented with his tenderfoot neckerchief by Mr. Hedman as well as his pin, which was bestowed by his mother. Norman Main was elevated to second class while Michael Kottmair received merit badges for scholarship and firemanship.

In addition to Scoutmaster Hedman, Assistant Scoutmaster A. C. Bailey and Explorer Advisor Gail T. Barker, 1952 Scouters cards were presented to the troop committee: Don Zaprowski, chairman, Philip Reynolds, Andrew T. Thompson, Raymond Kittner, Edward A. Flick. Mr. Reynolds, as troop treasurer, explained the need for financial help other than the boys' dues, in operating an active troop. Mr. Reynolds reported the boys had sold almost $500 worth of candy, with a good profit for the troop. Tenderfoot Paul Zock was presented a cooking kit as an award for having sold almost $90 in candy.

Members of Troop 11 and their adult associates expressed their sincere gratitude to Harry A. Logan, president, and the United Refinery for valuable assistance in perpetuating the troop. For two years the firm has provided Troop 11 with a large meeting room, has presented the troop with the finest first aid equipment in the Council, and has extended many other courtesies. In the troop room, for guests' inspection last night was a typical camp set-up complete in every particular even to the hanging burlap refrigerator.

COMPARING PRIMARY FIGURES

In a reasonably accurate sense, Pennsylvania's presidential primary was Illinois in reverse.

Senator Taft won Illinois overwhelmingly against Harold Stassen, the only other candidate on the ballot. General Eisenhower took Pennsylvania in sweeping style, again swamping Stassen, his sole ballot opponent.

In Illinois, Eisenhower polled upwards of 135,000 in write-in votes. In Pennsylvania, Taft collected close to 130,000 write-ins. Taft's percentage of the Illinois vote was 73, against Eisenhower's 11 per cent. Ike's share of the Pennsylvania Republican total was 76, against Taft's 13 per cent.

Both write-in showings were creditable under the circumstances. There was more surface evidence of campaign effort behind Ike's Illinois write-in than behind Taft's in Pennsylvania. But not all campaign work meets the eye, and it is possible some pretty earnest vote-drumming was done by the Taft forces in Pennsylvania.

The only fair conclusion to draw is that Illinois proved itself good Taft territory and Pennsylvania showed solid Eisenhower leanings.

It is too bad these two candidates were not actually matched on the ballot in both states, since a fair test would then have been had in two of the most populous sectors of the country.

Eisenhower was kept off the Illinois ballot because his campaign leaders considered it an unfavorable state. Taft was held off the ballot in Pennsylvania for much the same reason.

We may discount the senator's statement that he stayed out because the result of the popularity test was not binding on delegates. Neither is it in Illinois, New Hampshire or West Virginia—all states Taft chose to enter.

Illinois and Pennsylvania do not quite cancel each other. Taft won 59 of 60 GOP delegates in Illinois, because the officially unpledged winners are actually pro-Taft organization candidates.

It's another story in Pennsylvania, where Governor Fine and the Grundy-Owlett organization control some 60 of the unpledged delegates and have not yet committed them to any candidate. Despite Ike's victory, Taft still may come out with a big chunk of that delegate strength.

Eisenhower's parallel triumph in New York is of a slightly different order. He has been conceded the great bulk of New York's 96 GOP delegates all along, though Taft people have now and then claimed as many as 20. Ike supporters won all but a few of the 11 disputed berths, and thus the general will have close to 90 additional votes at Chicago.

Fairly it may be said that Pennsylvania and New York ran true to form. They brought the GOP race closer to the decisive stage, but they did not tip the scales either way.

Officers and members of the Business and Professional Women's Club, sponsors of the Cancer Crusade in Warren county, are hopeful that tag days being held today and tomorrow in Warren, Tidoute, Youngsville, Russell and Sheffield, will give a substantial boost to the drive to raise the quota of $5,000. In Warren the Y-Teenagers will handle the tag sales; Mrs. R. J. Gustafson is in charge of the workers in Tidoute; Troop 45 of the Girl Scouts under the leadership of Mrs. Harland McAllister, will be in charge in Youngsville; Troop 3, of the Girl Scouts in Russell, while in Sheffield High School girls with Mrs. Ruth Miller supervising, will sell tags. Help fight cancer by supporting the tag sales!

The Community is signally honored by the fact that Trinity Church was chosen for the special convention of the Diocese of Erie, to be held here Saturday for the purpose of electing a bishop to succeed the Rt. Rev. Harold E. Sawyer. A cordial welcome is extended the visiting laymen and clergy.

Five watches were found in an Illinois pickpocket's coat. Now he'll have no reason to care what time it is.

It would help if some bus drivers had our welfare as well as our fare at heart.

The amateur is now clearing his garden of last year's weeds. That's right, give this year's a chance!

Here And There

An epoch event in the history of the First Methodist church, which took place sixty years ago is described in an article in The Warren Mirror of April 23, 1892, as follows:

The First M. E. church was crowded to capacity last evening to witness the cremation of the evidence of debt, which has embarrassed the society for so long.

At five o'clock the ladies began to serve supper in the parlors, and until eight o'clock there was a constant rush for tables.

The supper was elegantly served and the program of exercises was finely rendered. All present seemed to enjoy themselves immensely.

Promptly at eight o'clock the large organ began to peal forth a jubilant overture, under the skillful fingers of George Lott, the accomplished organist of the church.

He seemed to fairly make the instrument speak and shout for joy that it was free. The Gloria was next rendered by a full choir, and the entire musical program was splendidly executed. Mrs. Hinkley has proven herself for years, a most successful leader, as well as vocalist.

Prayer was offered by the Rev. J. M. Thoburn, pastor of the M. E. church in Oil City. The Rev. George Ginader, of Clarendon, read the 103rd Psalm; and Miss Minnie Billington rendered beautifully a very appropriate poem on "How We Paid Our Church Debt!"

The historical paper by W. D. Hinkley, Esq., was a perfect gem of information.

The cremation services were not only unique but very impressive. F. H. Langworthy acted as judge in oriental style. As the lights were turned down J. J. Taylor tottered in, dressed as a very old man, staggering under a heavy burden. He stated his complaints and explained how the imps of debt had made his life miserable for years. The judge, after consulting his counselor, W. M. Watson—sentenced the evidence of debt to be executed. J. W. Crum, dressed in black, with his face masked, solemnly stalked in carrying a sharp broad axe. Each paper was struck a cutting blow, and then all of them were thrown into a flaming kettle of alcohol. As the last note expired the choir struck out into a doxology in which the whole congregation united. After the cremation was over the Rev. Thoburn delivered a very eloquent address, followed by the Rev. Dr. Ryan, rector of Trinity Memorial Episcopal church, who congratulated the congregation. Rev. Ginader and Rev. Snyder also made appropriate remarks. Messrs. Keeler, Bierce, Sersall, Ziegler, Wm Muir, Capt. Borchers, Mrs. Humason, Mrs. Jane Walters, the oldest member of the church, Jesse Smith, of Titusville, also spoke.

At a late hour the congregation dispersed after the benediction pronounced by Dr. Darling.

This church now has a membership of 784, and is entirely free of encumbrances. It owns its beautiful edifice and comfortable parsonage.

Making the Grade for Uncle Sam

PREPARATION for a tour of duty in the armed forces of the United States is the theme of a new series of films being released through schools, clubs, and churches. Produced by a group of educational associations, the U.S. Department of Defense and Coronet Films, they are designed to show young men what to expect from their period of service and after they complete the tour. They resulted from studies that showed many boys were confused as to what they ought to do before going into service and what the results of such duty would be. Here are some scenes taken from the 14 short films which have been produced in the project.

CONFUSED—This young man wonders what induction will mean to his future.

MORAL standards, the films urge, should keep a man proud to write to his family.

COMRADESHIP can be one of the most important elements of military service, the films indicate. It can help self-reliance and sense of responsibility.

PRIDE in the uniform goes with pride of country, is one of the film themes. The best preparation for service is good citizenship before and after military training.

ner cheeks, Steve paused momentarily in the doorway.

"You're prettier'n a spotted calf, Melody," he declared. "And getting more so every time I see you!"

"I suppose that's meant for a compliment, Steve, but must you use such expressions?" Melody demanded, laughing, but close to tears. "A spotted calf, indeed!"

"It fits," Steve insisted. "You never saw anything cuter or prettier—unless you looked in the glass! Ready for a ride?"

"Ready," Melody agreed, but she was unwontedly silent for a while. Steve, full of talk himself, did not notice. He gave a running account of the consternation which the housecleaning had thrown the crew into, and Melody laughed dutifully. Then Steve sobered.

"One thing's got me worried," he confessed. "I told you before about the round-up. That's something that is decided on by all the ranchers, over a wide territory. Since everybody works together, more or less, I'd hoped that it would be put off a little longer. But I just got word. It starts bright and early Monday morning."

They were to be married on Sunday.

"I know what's bothering you," she said. "You need to be out with your own crew on Monday."

"I'd ought to be," he confessed. "You see, Melody—well, while I was away, things happened. Uncle Link was in charge, and he did the best he could. But it wasn't too good. Then he was hurt—his horse fell with him, off a ledge. They had to kill the horse, and Link hasn't been able to walk since then. Matters were really bad for a while, before I got back. With the result that we seem to have lost a lot of cattle—a lot more than I thought for a while. Just how bad it is, this round-up will tell."

"And a lot hinges on the result."

"Plenty," he nodded grimly. "It looks as if I might have a fight on my hands to survive, to save the ranch."

DOOMROCK

BY ARCHIE JOSCELYN

Chapter 7

THE ranch house, even the grounds, were undergoing such a cleaning and renovating as they had not experienced in years. Workers, both men and women, were imported from town and set at myriad tasks. Not only must every room be scrubbed and scoured, but, viewing the place with suddenly critical eyes, Steve decided that new carpets would be a big addition on the floors. Curtains at the windows would help a lot. There was not too much time, but that at least must be done.

"And I can see a lot of other things, now I look around," he confided worriedly to his uncle. "There's so much that I don't know—what to do and what to leave undone. The dishes, the stove, the furniture—they've been all right for us, but they aren't the sort that Melody has been accustomed to."

"Your ideas of what a woman will want, and her notions, ain't likely to jibe. Let her have the fun of pickin' out new things and makin' changes when she gets ready. Be a lot better, all around."

"That's a good idea," Steve agreed, relieved. "I guess I was trying to do too much."

"Gettin' married is kind of a strain," Link said drily. "But take it easy and you'll live through it. It ain't hardly ever fatal."

Steve grinned, and saddled a horse to ride over and see Melody gain. Link was taking the sensible view, and he'd do well to follow it. He had an uneasy feeling that none of them at the ranch quite approved what he was doing—either the way in which he had treated Nancy, or the headlong manner in which he was rushing into this marriage.

Cass Walden was looking from one of the big windows of his house and was the first to see him coming. Down at the beginning of the avenue of cottonwoods, he pointed with a short, stubby pipe.

"Company to see you, Melody," he announced. "Though he's riding a little slower today, like he had things on his mind."

Melody crossed the room to look out also. A brief smile lingered around her mouth.

"I'll always be doubly thankful that I came out here to visit you folks this year," she said. "It's a Summer that I'll always remember."

"Likely," Cass agreed drily. "But you talk like it would be your only Summer in this country. I thought you were marryin' a native."

"I am," Melody conceded. "But Steve doesn't belong in this country, Uncle Cass. He's too big for it. He started out to be an engineer, and that's what he should be. He can be a great success."

Cass Walden was no relation, but Melody had called him Uncle since her earliest recollection. He regarded her gravely.

"Success is a relative matter," he pointed out. "It's partly a state of mind. Also a matter of viewpoint. I could have been a baronet had I remained in England."

He waved his pipe in a short, jerkily encompassing gesture.

"However, the fact remains that I did leave. I have no regrets. If I had it to do over again, knowing what I do now—of what this life has been, and of what I could inherit by remaining—I'd come across as I did, to this life, without hesitation. It suits me."

"I'm sure it does, Uncle Cass," Melody appraised the oncoming rider seriously. "But there's a similarity in both cases. You wanted a change—and got it. Steve wanted a change—and liked it."

"Perhaps so. But I wouldn't make too many plans about managing his life, if I were you, Melody. You're a wonderful woman, with great possibilities. But, if you'll pardon bluntness from an old man who has your welfare at heart, you have a tendency to be headstrong, like your mother. You won't be able to wind Steve around your finger, as your mother has done all these years with your father."

NODDING serenely, he got his pipe alight and strolled into another room as Steve lifted the brass knocker. Far from understanding the heightened color in can be soon. Round-up will begin soon, and I'll take quite a while. I'd hate to have to wait till that was over."

"You're very impetuous," Melody murmured. "But I like you that way. Would a week be too long, Steve? I've got to get a dress and a few other things, together, and people have to have a little time."

"A week will be fine, and I think you're wonderful," he assured her, and knew a moment of contentment. "But maybe that's rushin' you too fast, again. Your folks won't have a chance to get out here, that way."

"No," she agreed. "They won't. And I expect Mamma will be disappointed. But I'm thinking of Mamma would on doing all the planning—she has a way of managing. I don't want that, or to wait too long. There would be a lot of other things come up if we waited. This will suit me fine."

THE news was received with varying emotions at the Diamond R, but on the whole with more calmness than Steve had anticipated.

Indian Joe did not seem surprised.

"Luck is a funny thing," he said cryptically. "Specially some kind of luck."

Only one man on the Diamond R asked an embarrassing question. That was Link Russell, and he sat with such calmness under the blanket in the wheelchair that it might almost have been a dead man there, save for the brightness of his eyes.

"You know your own business, Steve," he said. "And likely she's all you say. But—what about Nancy?"

Steve colored.

"I feel like a heel," he admitted. "But I never loved her, Uncle Link. She was just sort of a habit."

But I owe her something, he thought. I'll write a note and send it in by Linny, this evening. It's the least I can do.

"Yeah," Link agreed. "Well, it'll be good, havin' a woman around the place again. Been a good many years now. Take some huskin' to get things fixed up for her, that soon."

She saw the approval in his eyes, and smiled. "I love to ride."

She demonstrated the truth of that in the next few hours. They rode much farther than Steve had expected to, forgetful of time or distance. Abruptly he became aware of their whereabouts, looking around. His face sobered, then relaxed in a grin.

"Know where we are, Melody?" he asked.

"Why—no, I don't, exactly," she confessed. "Why?"

"Nothing much—or maybe quite a bit." He eyed her quizzically. "We've headed off south till it's only a couple of miles on to Aldington. Quite a town. The County Seat, in fact."

"I've been there," she confessed. "But I don't quite understand what you mean."

"They have several things here that we lack at Rising Wolf," he explained. "Being the County Seat they have a court house—and a judge. Here they have a regular church and a full-time preacher."

"That's all very interesting, but I still don't quite see—"

"What I'm trying to say, Melody, is that I love you. I guess I saw you get off the stage this Summer. I want to marry you—right now!"

She looked at him, sudden color flooding her cheeks.

"I think I'll have to say—yes and no," she said. "Yes that I want you, too, Steve. And if you want to have me wedding soon, I've no objection. For I think I have been in love with you, too—from the day I got off the stage."

"I was crazy to go so fast," he said contritely. "A girl like you, naturally you'd want a regular wedding. I just didn't stop to think about that."

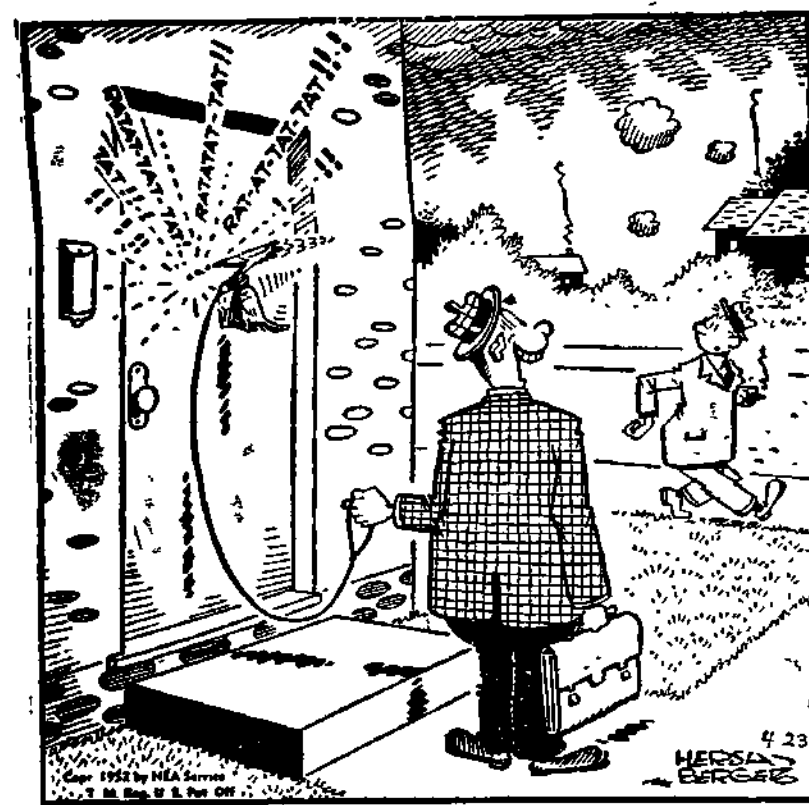

"That's so—in a way," she nodded. "But you've got great possibilities. You're going to be a big man. You are a big man in this country now. It's just as important for you as for me, that we do things accordingly. An elopement now would be a lot of fun—but a wedding in the church at Rising Wolf will be much more fitting."

"I guess you're right," he agreed, relieved that she did not suggest it should be at her own home in the East. "Only I hope it

RAYMOND GRANT SPERRY
Raymond Grant Sperry, East Fifth avenue, died at his home at 1:30 a. m. today after having been in ill health for the past three years.

Born in North Warren on April 10, 1895, he had resided in this vicinity practically all his life and was employed as custodian at the Warren post office for 15 years prior to his illness. He was a member of Bethel Evangelical United Brethren church. A veteran of World War I, he served in the Navy as an oiler aboard convoy vessels.

Surviving are his wife, Ruby, and the following children: Val Sperry, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Minor Laufberger, Warren RD 1; Billie Ray Sperry, Billings, Mo.; and Patricia Sperry, at home; also one brother, Fred Sperry, Baltimore, Md., and five sisters: Mrs. Jessie McCann, Cleveland, O.; Mrs. Cora Miller, Montgomery, Ala.; Mrs. W. I. Fouch, Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. H. E. Mayse, Westerville, O.; and Miss Pearl Sperry, Jacksonville, Fla. Besides these, there are three grandchildren, several cousins, and a number of nieces and nephews.

Removal has been made to the Templeton Funeral Home, where friends will be received at the usual hours, starting at 2.00 p. m. Saturday, and where services in his memory will be held at 2.30 p. m. Monday. The Rev. Roger D. Morey, pastor of Bethel church, will officiate and interment will be made in Pine Grove cemetery at Russell.

JUDD HOSACK
Judd Hosack, resident of North Warren for many years, died at that place at 11.55 a. m. Thursday. He was born on June 16, 1858, at Clarks Mills, Pa., but had lived in Warren and North Warren since April 1, 1898. Before retiring in 1923, he had been employed as a coachman for Warren State Hospital for 24 years. A brother, Earl Hosack, North Warren, is his only close survivor.

Removal has been made to the Peterson Funeral Home, where friends will be received at the regular calling hours, starting at 10.00 a. m. Saturday, and where services will be held at 2.00 p. m. Monday. Rev. Leland Hine, pastor of First Baptist church, will conduct the rites and interment will be made in Oakland cemetery.

JOHN KULAK
John Kulak, 71 years of age, died suddenly at his home about a mile from Youngville on the Matthews Run road Thursday evening about 4.30 o'clock. He had been in failing health for some time, but not under a physician's care, the coroner's office was informed. Born in Poland, he came to this country about 45 years ago. His only survivor is his wife. Removal was made to the Young Funeral Home in Youngville where friends are being received. Services will be held Saturday morning at 11 o'clock from St. Luke's church in Irvine. The Rev. Father Edward Jacobs will officiate. Interment will be in the Youngville cemetery.

D. B. DOBBS
Mrs. Clara Lawson, Warren RD 3, received a call from Coviche, Wash., at 11.30 p. m. Thursday, informing her of the death of her brother, D. B. Dobbs. Also a brother of Felix Dobbs, 3 New Court Place, he leaves his wife, Cora; three sons and one daughter, four brothers and three sisters.

BUSINESS DEAL
Corry Journal: Cabins-in-the-Pines, tourist motel, restaurant and bar operated by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Spear for the past five and one-half years, has been purchased by Joseph Ponder of Columbus. Actual transfer of operation of the business place hinges upon the approval of the liquor license transfer by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board. Included in the real estate transfer action are the nine tourist cabins, the restaurant and bar along with 12 acres of property. Mr. and Mrs. Spear, who purchased the Route 6 roadside establishment from William Averill in 1946, plan to move to California to make their home upon completion of the transaction. Ponder, who has resigned at the Ajax Iron Works, is now assisting with the operation of the business place. He plans to continue the popular fish and steak menu and will be assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Spear for a few weeks after assuming charge.

SUNDAY SERVICES ON DST SCHEDULE
Since Warren borough and surrounding communities go on fast time over this week-end, church-goers are reminded Sunday service schedules will be according to the new daylight saving time.

Club Breakfast Is Sign of Spring

One of the sure signs of spring is really here to stay in the news of the Women's Club annual May Day breakfast. The retiring entertainment committee chairman, Mrs. Frederick Beardsley, and the incoming head of that group, Mrs. B. H. Mathis, are hostesses who enter wholeheartedly into making this one of the season's outstanding events.

Mrs. T. L. Armstrong is in charge of ticket sales, announcing they may be had by contacting her at 1266, or by calling the club office, 410. Only a limited number may be sold and those wishing to enjoy this springtime event are advised to make their arrangements early.

The hours during which breakfast is served are conveniently arranged for early or late risers and for noon-day diners. The dining room, in charge of Mrs. William Cannon, will open at 7:30 and serving will continue through 12:30 p. m., Thursday, May 1st.

WOMEN OF THE MOOSE PLAN ACTIVITIES
Senior Regent Esther Odell was in charge of the regular meeting of Warren Chapter 693, Women of the Moose, when there was a class initiation and plans were made for a supper for the membership on May 14. Ann Stigelmier to be in charge and tickets to be available at the door. There was also a discussion of plans for those who will go to Williamsport soon to receive their Academy of Friendship degree.

The chapter night prize for the evening went to Blanche Kelsey; the attendance prize to Vera Petrowski. Concluding refreshments were served by Ruth Dahler, Lois Simmons and Alice Helmon.

HOME EC SCHEDULE
Gladine Johnston and Mary Ayers, home economics extension representatives for the county, announce the following schedule of events for the coming week:
Monday—8:30, radio program; all day office hours.
Tuesday—8:30, radio program; 1:00, chair-caning meeting at Pittsfield.
Wednesday—1:15, 4-H Leaders' meeting, Warren County Dairy Building.
Thursday—8:30, radio program; 9:00, Assistant Director McCulloch to check program; 1:30, aluminum tray meeting at Whitton home at Barnes.

SOUTH STREET PTA TO NAME OFFICERS
A large turnout is hoped for at the April meeting of South Street PTA, to be held at 8:00 p. m. Monday and to include election of officers for the coming year. Gerald Newton will be in charge of the evening's program and mothers of the first grade pupils will serve refreshments.

BARNES
C. E. Jeffords has received word of the birth of a grandson, born to Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis of Little Hocking, Ohio, Saturday. The little lad tipped the scales at nine pounds, three ounces, and has been named Gary Michael. Mrs. C. E. Jeffords is at the Lewis home, helping to care for the other two little Lewis boys.

PLANS OPEN CHURCH

Bertha Alice Gustafson, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Nore G. Gustafson, 4 East Third avenue, will observe open church for her marriage on Saturday, May 10, to Donald C. Kuhre, second lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force and son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd N. Kuhre, 110 Connecticut avenue.

The ceremony will be solemnized at 4:30 p. m. in St. Paul's Lutheran church, of which the bride's father is pastor.

ALL-TWOS PARTY

All-Twos members of First Methodist church will have a round and square dance party at 8:30 p. m. Monday in the Stoneham community house.

J-O-Y CLASS MEETING

J-O-Y Class members of North Warren Presbyterian church have planned a dessert-meeting at the church at 7:30 p. m. Monday.

CANTEEN DANCE

The Warren Youth Canteen is sponsoring a dance at The Spot Saturday night, 8:30 to 11:30, and a large turnout is hoped for.

Circle Meetings At Grace Church

Jennie Blaisdell Circle will hold its April meeting at the home of Mrs. Russell Templeton, 308 Prospect street, at 7:30 p. m. Monday, and a large turnout is hoped for. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Little and Mrs. Nielsen.

Members of the Marian Jones Circle will be entertained at 7:45 p. m. Monday at the home of Mrs. Jessie Baird, Wayne street and Oneida avenue.

Mrs. Esther Smith, Warren-Kinzua road, will entertain members of the Gertrude Baumbach Circle at her home at 7:30 p. m. Monday.

JUNIORS TO USHER FOR "THE MIKADO"

When the senior Philomel Club presents the Gilbert and Sullivan Club of Jamestown in "The Mikado" at the high school at 8:00 p. m. Monday and Tuesday, ushers will be members of the Junior Philomel Club.

Officiating in that capacity on Monday evening will be Ann Dalrymple, Stavroula Panos, Patricia Harrington, Martha Milenius, Maegean Edmiston, Joyce Sponsler and Carol Barrett; for Tuesday, Susan Robertson, Mary Elliott, Joan Saglumbene, Jane McDonald, Peggy Niederlander, Barbara Champion and Gerry Aquist.

MISS SALAPEK TO OBSERVE OPEN CHURCH

Rose Margaret Salapek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Salapek, Warren R. D. 3, will observe open church tomorrow for her marriage to M/Sgt. Dale E. Freshborough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Freshborough, Youngsville.

The ceremony will take place at ten o'clock in the morning at St. Luke's church at Irvine.

JOYCE STITES PLANS OPEN CHURCH

Joyce Stites, daughter of Mrs. Florence Clark and Edward Stites, will observe open church tomorrow afternoon when she becomes the bride of Robert Slocum, son of Mrs. Lawrence Slocum, Water street.

The ceremony will be performed in Grace Methodist church at two o'clock.

Heard on the Party Line

Nancy Lee Plummer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Plummer, 305 West Fifth avenue, appeared in a special duet number on the program presented by the Modern Dance Club and Sophomore Dance Class at Oberlin College last Saturday evening. A junior and German major in the department of arts and sciences at Oberlin, Nancy is a member of the Dance Club's executive committee.

Another bit of college news deals with Bob Christensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Christensen, Hemlock street extension, who has been chosen to play the part of Grumio in the production of Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew" May 1-2 in the Edinboro State Teachers College auditorium. Graduates of the local high school, Bob is a junior majoring in art education at Edinboro and is a member of Phi Sigma Pi, professional fraternity.

When the Men's Glee Club of Pennsylvania State College goes on its annual spring tour, starting April 28, one of its singers will be Bob Eames, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Eames, 8 Hammond street. The tour opening Monday begins in Williamsport and includes Elmira and Buffalo, N. Y., Erie and Ridgway.

Last Friday evening, the local YWCA was the scene of a very jolly old fashioned square dance which opened the observance of National YWCA Week. Six sets enjoyed the music of Bill Barr and his orchestra and had such fun another such party has been scheduled for May 16.

In connection with YWCA Week, did you know that approximately 3,000 persons use the local YW buildings monthly? That 10 outside organizations meet there each month? That five "Y" clubs, covering every age group, offer entertainment, interesting and educational programs to members monthly? That over 400 Y-Teens meet there weekly? That the residence and dormitory house 20 girls plus transients? That the YW is a member of your Community Chest? The YW offers women and girls of Warren a place to meet their friends; good speakers, educational slides, fun and friendship; cooperation; and provides Warren with a wonderful community center.

THE WORKS OF CHRIST

CHRIST'S TRANSFIGURATION

And after six days Jesus taketh Peter, and John his brother, and bringeth them up into an high mountain apart. And was transfigured before them: and his face did shine as the sun, and his raiment was white as the light. And behold, there appeared unto them Moses and Elias talking with him.

Then answered Peter, and said unto Jesus, Lord, it is good for us to be here: if thou wilt, let us make here three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

While he yet spake, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them: and behold a voice out of the cloud, which said, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased; hear ye him.

And when the disciples heard it, they fell on their face, and were sore afraid. And Jesus came and touched them, and said, Arise, and be not afraid.

And when they had lifted up their eyes, they saw no man, save Jesus only. And as they came down from the mountain, Jesus charged them, saying, Tell the vision to no man, until the Son of man be risen again from the dead.

—St. Matthew 17: 1-9.

Church Notes

CLARENDON EUB PLANS REVIVAL SERIES
Announcing Sunday worship in Clarendon EUB church, Rev. A. L. Pang calls attention to the 7:30 p. m. evangelistic service, which opens an eight-day series of revival meetings to be conducted by Rev. Francis Fehman, of Salem EUB church, Warren. Meetings will be held nightly at 7:30 o'clock Sunday to Sunday. Rev. Pang also urges all members of his Weld-bank church to share in these services.

SALEM EUB CHURCH WILL HAVE GUESTS
At the Salem EUB church at 10:45 a. m. Sunday, Rev. Francis E. Fehman will speak on the theme, "Well Diggers." Mr. and Mrs. Walter Treadway, son leader and pianist at the "Christ for Warren Campaign," will be guests, bringing special music and a word of personal testimony. The organist will play for the prelude, "Pans Angelicus" by Franck; and for the offertory, "Arioso" by Handel; the choir will sing for its anthem, "Lead Me, Lord" by Wesley. There will be no Youth Fellowship or evening worship because of the Christ for Warren meetings at First EUB church. Events of the coming week: Monday, 8:00, Persuaders Class at the church; Wednesday, 8:30, choir rehearsal; Thursday, 8:30, council of administration.

BETHLEHEM COVENANT
"Love On Trial" will be Pastor David Carlson's subject for the 11 a. m. Sunday worship service at Bethlehem Covenant church. Sunday school will meet at 10 a. m. The usual evening service will be omitted in order to unite with the closing service of the Christ for Warren Campaign at First EUB church at 7:30 p. m.

REFORMED CHURCH
"The Faith That Removes Mountains" will be Rev. John Berger's sermon topic at 9:45 a. m. Sunday in Emanuel Evangelical and Reformed church, with special music by Organist Eleanor Swanson and selection by the choir. Walter Taft is superintendent for the 10:45 a. m. church school. Events of the week: Monday, 8:00, Martha Society with Mrs. Edward Flick, 300 Edgewood Place; Thursday, 2:00, Ladies Aid with Mrs. John Huber, 311 Lincoln avenue; Friday, 1:00, May Day luncheon of Warren Council of Church Women at First Methodist church.

LANDER METHODIST
At the 11:00 a. m. service Sunday, Rev. Gustav Erickson will speak on the subject "The Missionary Task in Today's World" and there will be special choir music. At 7:30 p. m., the young people will give a program and at 8:00 p. m. the pastor will speak on "Religion A Source of Well-Being".

High school students will assist with the stage setting, Richard LeTrent, Harry Walker and John Drum working the first evening; Dudley Danielson and Charles Conway, on the second.

Shrine Club Ladies' Night Party Is Delightful Affair

Over 150 nobles of the Warren County Shrine Club and their ladies attended the annual Ladies' Night dinner and entertainment at the Marconi Outing Club Wednesday evening, all expressing the sentiment that it was one of the best such affairs ever held by the club.

A delightful dinner was served at 7:30 o'clock by the Lewis Catering Service, after which the Rudy Hartmann Bavarian Trio proceeded to turn the entire assemblage into a songfest that included everything from Schnitzel Bunk to Jerome Kern.

The famous SymPhony Four of Jamestown took over in an attack on music that had the audience practically in hysterics and were brought back again and again until they couldn't produce another note.

The balance of the evening was enjoyed with dancing to beautiful Strauss waltzes which, combined with lady's violin, took the crowd right to old Vienna. Younger members, who aren't hep to the old waltz routines, insisted on something more "swingy" for their share of the musical offerings.

Toastmaster for the occasion was Noble Don Mowell, president of the club, who introduced the guest, Chief Rabbi Harry Mueller, a distinguished guest from Erie's Zion Temple, representing P'tentate Frampont, who, because of previous commitments, was unable to attend with his divan.

Other guests were Noble and Assemblyman Allen Gibson, with a big election smile on his beaming face; Noble Nelson Woodward, representing Jamestown Shrine Club, and many other representatives of surrounding chapters.

Upon arrival, each lady was presented with a lovely rose and sweet pea corsage and these, with the colorful fexes worn by the nobles, created a gay picture. Some nobles, who had come minus fex regretted that action when Past Potentate W. E. Lutz levied a fine for their neglect. Six of the ladies were especially fortunate in receiving beautiful gold compacts as door prizes.

The able and tired committee, under the wing of Noble Ken Graham and his co-chairman, Fred Printz, included Pete Peterson, Dick Nelson, Bob Gibb, Rudy Rudiger, George Gerachmes, and Don Mowell.

Warren Man Has Problem in Finding Home for Family

It's Spring and, for most people the cares fade away and life takes on a new look.

But Frank has a problem which he has, as yet, been unable to solve and time is of the essence.

Frank is Frank A. Rich, a turbine operator at Penelec, and the problem facing him is that he may have no home for his wife and their two sons, Richard F., aged six, and Robert A., aged 15 months, when they arrive from Rome, Italy, May 13.

Frank's efforts to rent a home, furnished or unfurnished, have been unavailing. He has been staying at the home of his brother, Sam Rich, 124 Russell street, since he returned to Warren last December after having accompanied his wife and the little boys to Rome, in October, for a visit with her family. Frank became acquainted with his wife while serving in the Army in Italy during World War II. The two youngsters were born here.

If anyone can help Frank solve his problem, he says he will be eternally grateful.

CHRIST FOR WARREN MEETINGS

Last night at the Christ for Warren meetings, Evangelist John Barbee spoke on "Death Without Reason". He gave some of the excuses why men are turning their backs on Christ the only one who can save them from hell. He pointed out the weaknesses of these excuses, and said that some day each of us will have to answer to almighty God for not accepting Christ. At the judgment bar we will not have to give account of the hypocrites, but only ourselves. Many others are waiting until they get to the place in life where they feel that they can live the Christian life.

Barbee said that the question is not can I live the Christian life, but am I willing to? He said that many people are giving excuses simply because they do not want to be saved; they want to go on living lives of sin. He concluded urging all to accept Christ the light of the world. Tonight is Sunday School Night, and all teachers, officers, and students of all Sunday schools of this area are invited to attend. Tonight's sermon will be: "The Victims and Tragedies of Tomorrow."

PRESIDENT HIMMELMAN

First Lutheran Parish Is Observing 110th Birthday With Special Events

The Rev. G. Lawrence Himmelman (left), who is president of the Pittsburgh Synod of the United Lutheran Church in America, will be the guest preacher at the 11:00 o'clock service in First Lutheran church Sunday morning, coming to Warren to have a part in the celebration of the 110th anniversary of the local congregation.

Other services of this anniversary Sunday will be the early worship at 8:30 o'clock, the regular church school period, and vespers at 7:30 p. m., with Pastor Edward K. Rogers preaching the sermons.

On Tuesday evening, at 7:45 o'clock, members of the congregation will gather at the YWCA activities building for an anniversary party which will feature an address by the Rev. William Pfeifer, pastor of First Lutheran church in Greensburg, secretary of stewardship in the Synod, and Navy chaplain during World War II.

Music and remarks concerning the past history of the parish will have a place in the Tuesday program and Charles Cable will explain the Living Memorial Plan which is being introduced in the parish in the next few weeks. Refreshments will be served by members of the Dorcas Class.

The committee in charge of the anniversary observance includes Kenneth Greenlund, chairman; Herman Ryberg, Robert Hansen and Ivan Brumagin.

First church was organized in 1842, after several years of work among newly arrived German speaking immigrants by itinerant pastors. A church was built four years later on East street, between Fourth and Fifth avenues. In 1867, the present church was built at the corner of East and Third streets. About 50 years later it was changed considerably and the Sunday school rooms were added.

The original church on the present site was built under the leadership of the Rev. A. Leopold Benze, grandfather of John Benze, of Willoughby avenue and great-grandfather of Mrs. Thomas Hamilton, Jackson avenue.

Through the years First church has grown steadily until it now numbers 1,250 confirmed members. In recent years it has achieved a fine record in benevolent works. During the past five years the congregation has given more to support the mission, merciful education works of the Lutheran church than it has spent for local expenses. Since the recent war, the entire salary of a missionary in India has been paid by the local church.

Grass Checks Soil Losses in Farmland Waterways

Grassed waterways more than proved their worth in Iowa during the wet spring of 1951, according to Marvin A. Anderson in "Crops and Soils" for February. Not only did they tie down the soil in natural channels, where water runs off the slopes, but they also slowed up the water and prevented gullying.

Farmers who had established grassed waterways in previous years were able to cross natural water courses with machinery and didn't have to drive around gullies, or farm in patches because of ditches and washouts. In short, grassed waterways saved time, trouble and soil in a delayed, wet planting season.

Converting a gully to a waterway that halts erosion requires planning and work. Late summer or early fall is usually the best time to do the job. Moisture conditions are better then, the cooler season is more favorable for growth of the grass seeding and more time is usually available to do the work.

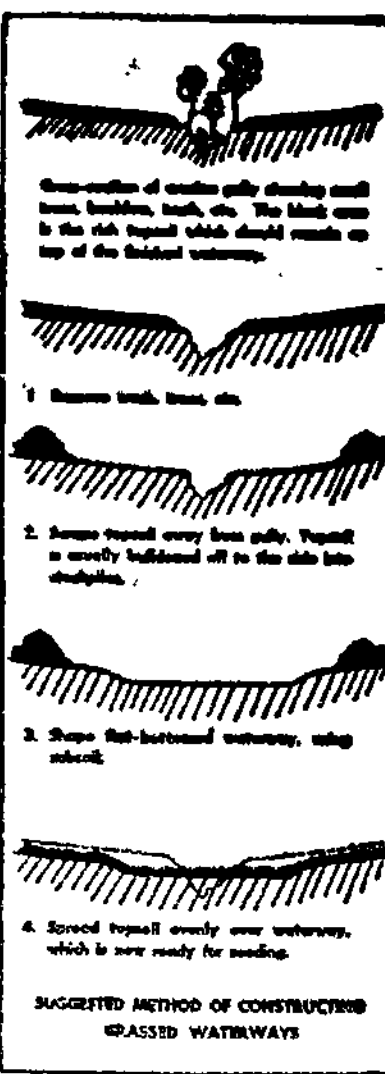

Regardless of how a waterway is built, the finished product should be a wide, flat-bottomed water course. The width of the bottom should vary with the steepness of the field and the size of the area drained. One common fault is getting the waterway too narrow. The minimum width should be 1 rod for adequate protection and ease of maintenance. Many waterways will be 2 to 3 or more rods wide.

Keep in mind that a good waterway must have a heavy growth of perennial grasses. There are a number of grasses that may be used.

Where bromegrass is adapted it makes one of the best all-around waterway grasses, especially on fertile soils. Kentucky bluegrass is good, but it is slow to start. Timothy is quick-starting but does not provide as much protection as other grasses. Redtop starts quickly and grows well under a wide range of conditions. It does well on wet and infertile soils. Alta and Ky 31 fescues are well suited to wet soils and are easy to establish. Reed canarygrass is an excellent sod-forming grass that proves valuable in wet areas where frequent flooding is a problem. It may be grown from seed like the other grasses.

Usually it is best to seed a mixture of two or three of these grasses at about double the normal field seeding rate. Legumes should not be included except in small amounts, and even then the selection should be confined to alfalfa or alsike clover. The grasses should always predominate.

Waterways can be started in the spring when a field is going into corn, although it usually requires more time and work. Corn can be broadcast at the rate of 3 to 4 bushels per acre in the prepared waterway at compounding time. The growth will provide quick protection. Then in August it can be disked down to make a mulch to protect the fall-seeded grasses. Sudangrass or sorghum can be used in the same way, but their late fall growth offers competition for the new seeding.

NEWS OF THE WORLD AS SEEN IN PICTURES

CONVICTS AGREE TO END RIOT—Shaking hands after signing a truce to end hostilities at the southern Michigan prison in Jackson, Assistant Deputy Warden Vernon Fox discusses terms with Earl Ward, leader of the mutinous convicts. Center-left is Tony Mazzone and center-right is Russell Jarboe, both convicts in cell block 15, the mutineers' headquarters. The riot ended when state authorities agreed to prison reform demands made by the rebellious convicts.

NO BRIDE WOULD MIND THIS SHOWER—Hamish Livingston, 27, and Dalice Lloyd, 21, think it's wonderful to be caught in a rain of money on their wedding day. Despite the fact that it's just stage money, the couple are still happy. They're dancing in a London stage show, and earning real "pennies from heaven."

PRISONERS START FOR "VICTORY" SUPPER—The first group of rioting prisoners, lower left, prepare to enter the Jackson, Mich., prison mess hall, left, after barricading themselves in cell block 15, the building in the center. Demanding prison reforms, the mutineers persuaded prison authorities to meet their demands. One of the truce requisites was an immediate meal of steak, ice cream and "all the trimmings" in return for the safe release of eight prison guard hostages.

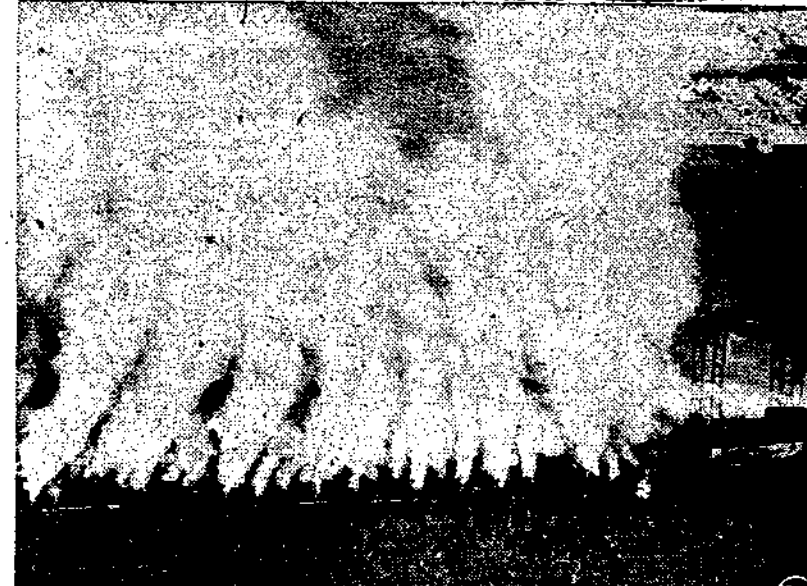

ISLAND TOWN IN MISSOURI—Dikes hold back record flood waters of the Missouri River around the town of Craig, Mo. The dikes saved the town from being flooded in the "Muddy Mo" as the crest neared Kansas City.

SHOE'S ON THE OTHER FOOT—Celebrating 50th anniversary of the opening of his bootblack stand on New York's Hanover Square, Tony Ubino, 72, right, gets a shine from old-time customer Richard R. Adams, president of the Grace Steamship Line. He proudly shows gold watch presented to him by officials of the steamship firm.

BOUND FOR WEST POINT—Brig-Gen. John F. Michalek, one-time leader of the 27th Infantry "Fire Brigade" in Korea, who is now serving at Supreme Allied Headquarters in Paris, will soon become commandant of West Point. He is one of the chief architects of the European Army Plan.

GRAIN DOCKS ABLAZE—An estimated two million dollars worth of grain was destroyed in Vancouver, B. C., when fire swept through several hundred feet of a grain dock. The fire, called one of worst in the city's history, sent huge columns of smoke rising thousands of feet into the air.

ARMY LOSES BATTLE TO MISSOURI RIVER—Yellow floodwaters of the Missouri River flowed 10 feet deep in some places at the Sherman Air Force Base near Leavenworth, Kans. An Air Force officer runs a motorboat, left, through one of the hangars of the $3,500,000 air base. A break in a dike ended a nine-day battle between soldiers and the Missouri. Every piece of valuable equipment had been moved previously, but officials estimate the damage will still be more than a million dollars.

TINY TAXI—A model lends a decorative touch to the otherwise utilitarian "Micro-Taxi" just unveiled at the Milan, Italy, Industry Fair. The three-wheeled midget taxi, designed for two passengers, is really a motor scooter with a special housing. Designer claims it offers lower fares, good speed and gas-saving mileage.

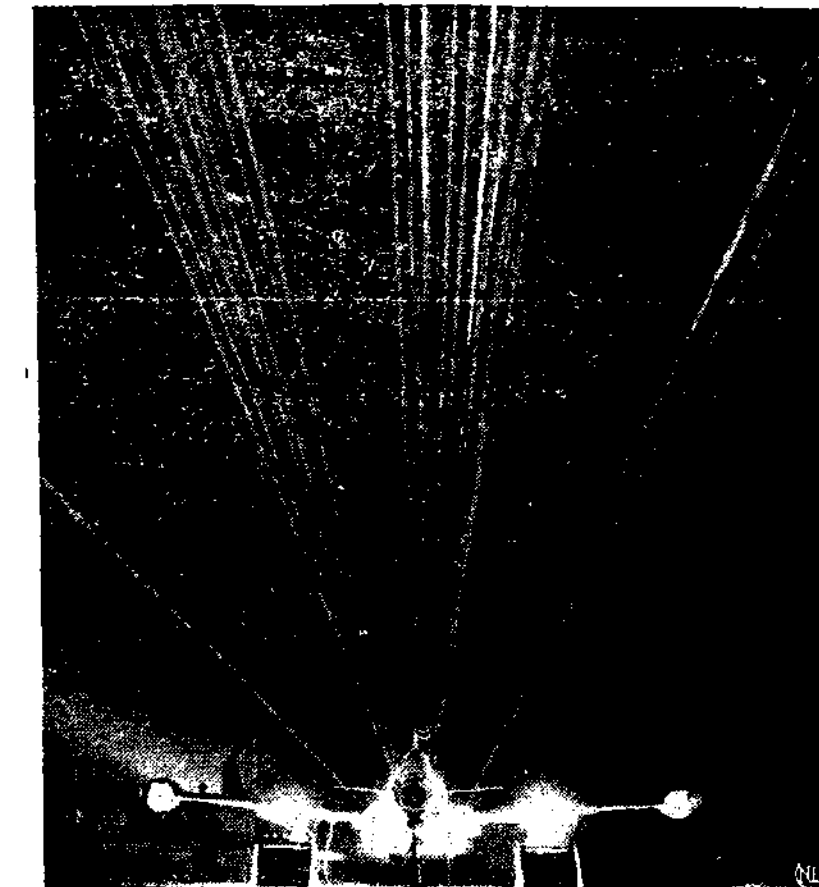

BENDETSEN PROMOTED—Assistant Secretary of the Army Karl R. Bendetsen, of San Francisco, has been nominated by President Truman for promotion to Undersecretary of the Army. He will succeed Archibald S. Alexander.

POLICE SEARCH FOR CONVICTS' HIDDEN WEAPONS—Michigan state police search the grounds of the state penitentiary at Jackson with mine detectors in search of any weapons hidden by rioting convicts. Although the rioters have ended their holdout, prison authorities believe it will be several days before the grounds will be safely clear of weapons.

ARMY BRINGS UP REINFORCEMENTS—Army barges reinforce Omaha, Neb., dikes with sandbags as the waters of the Missouri River near the crest mark. Rains have made a bog out of the working area. Army engineers warn the danger will not be over when the river crests as pressure on the dikes will still be a major hazard.

"SILENT DEATH" FOR REDS—Tracer paths of "silent death" flame across the sky from the six M-3 type .50-cal. machine guns of a Republic F-84 Thunderjet, undergoing test firing in operations at Farmingdale, L. I. This is believed to be first photo of the 1300 rounds-per-minute guns in action. Communist troops in Korea call the 600-mile-per-hour-plus F-84 "silent death" because its bombs and bullets often strike before the plane's approach can be heard.

RIDING HIGH—Sandy, the Alsatian perched on the back of Cpl. Colin Garner, RAF, is a Royal Air Force police dog, so high-altitude riding should be routine for him. He and his handler are practicing in Netherlands, England, for the annual Royal Tournament in June.

INFLATION HITS PENNY-A-PITCH—It's now three-balls-for-shilling, instead of penny-a-pitch, if you want to try a game of chance at Hampstead, London, England. Jacqueline Woolgar, 5, adorned with a Bobbie's helmet, makes an enticing "pitchman" when she visits the concession.

Olympic Preview Is Provided As 4,117 Athletes Take Part In Penn Relays, Opening Today

BY RALPH BERNSTEIN
Philadelphia, April 25—(AP)—Uncle Sam gets a full-scale preview of his Olympic track and field prospects as some 4,117 athletes from 506 institutions today open what is expected to be two days of record breaking competition in the 58th annual Penn Relay carnival.

Highlights of opening day will be the effort of Michigan's fine distance medley relay team to repeat a week-old world record shattering performance; Dick Shea's bid for his third straight meet two mile victory to carry back to West Point, and Meredith Gourdine's effort to keep the 400 meter hurdle title far above Cayuga's waters at Cornell.

In addition to the sparkling Shea, holder of the 9:11.9 two mile Penn Relay record, individual champions seeking to repeat include Ed Ross, Hammer Thrower from Yale; Cummin Clancy, Irish tosser, discus ace of Villanova; Herb Neff, long legged high jumper from Tennessee; Bob Allison, ace javelin tosser of Ann Arbor; and Larry Johnson, West Point's superior 120-yard hurdler.

From a team standpoint, Manhattan will try to repeat its quarter and half mile relay championships and might do it in record breaking time; New York University defends the sprint medley crown, while Cornell faces challenges to its 480-yard shuttle hurdle and heptagonal mile titles.

Michigan's distance medley quartet, fresh from a 9:56.3 world record performance, will get all the competition it could ask for from the U. S. Air Force team based at Lockbourne, near Columbus, O.

Cornell defends its heptagonal mile relay title against Columbia, Yale, Princeton, Army, Navy, Dartmouth and Penn in the first day's only other championship final. This Cornell mile quartet also will try to repeat its record breaking performance in the American college mile on Saturday.

Manhattan and Michigan are rated by the experts as the teams to beat for the unofficial team title.

The robin, the goldfinch and English sparrows are among the birds imported to United States territory by white settlers.

Bantam and Midget Groups to Practice

Rev. Stephen Kanyan and George Simpson, leaders of the bantam and midget divisions of the Hot Stove League in Youngsville, have called a practice session for six o'clock next Tuesday evening.

Boys reporting are to wear tennis shoes and bring along their baseball gloves.

Gymnast Aspirants Are in Competition At State College

State College, Pa., April 25—(AP)—America's premier gymnasts—both men and women—sought places on the 1952 Olympic gym team as the combined national AAU and Olympic tryouts began today.

A field regarded by 1948 Olympic Coach Gene Wettstone as the best ever went through preliminaries.

Only one national champion was to be decided at today's sessions—that will be in the long horse vaulting event, in which Edward Scrobe, of the American Turners Club, Bronx, N. Y., is favored to repeat.

Scrobe was last year's winner and competed in the 1948 Olympic games at London.

Defending champions are on hand for six of the nine men's events and for six of the seven classes for women. In addition, there are three holdovers besides Scrobe from the men's 1948 team and four from the women's team of that year.

Wettstone, Penn State's gymnastic coach and meet director, placed three of his own products on the eight-man 1948 team. He said he looked for "absolutely superlative work on the high bar and parallel bars, in calisthenics and tumbling."

"We have probably the most talented American gymnasts ever brought together in one place. Every important gymnast in America is here."

Given an excellent chance of repeating is Bill Rootzheim, defending three-time national all-around champion from Chicago.

Penn State's three members of the last Olympic team—Bill Ronsall, Ray Sorenson and Lou Bordo—all have retired from competition but a new crop of collegians is rated capable of giving the amateurs stiff competition.

In this group are Southern California's two all-around aces, Johnny Beckner and Charley Simms; Bob Sullivan, University of Illinois tumbling and all-around ace; Frank Bare, Illinois' side horse star; Jack Sharp, of Florida State on the rings, and Dick Gutting, Florida State, on the trampoline.

On the staff side, the stars are Mrs. Marion Twining Barone and Mrs. Clara Schroth Lomady, both of the Philadelphia Turners. Together they hold five titles.

Track Squad Faces First Competition Against Titusville

Warren High School track and field men get their 1952 season underway at 3:15 this afternoon, when they match speed and brawn with the Titusville High Rockets.

Last year in dual competition the Blue and White lost four out of six meets, but with a nucleus of 10 lettermen to build around in the current campaign, the locals have a chance of a winning season.

This afternoon's meet will be a good test as to what power Coach Loyal Briggs does have this year, for the Rockets are no pushover, as they have already proven. In 1951 the Brown and Gold nosed two wins over the Warren thin-clads, with only six points difference altogether, and today will be as good a time as any to make up for it.

Marconi Club Host To Falcon Manager In Warren Tonight

Members and friends of the Marconi club will hear Ray Peebles, general manager of the Jamestown Falcons, give a baseball talk at 7:30 tonight at the town club.

Peebles, former Erie sportswriter, has been well received in appearances before the Youngsville Kiwanis club, Warren Sports Boosters and Rotary club, and those attending tonight's affair will have a treat. There will be the usual "general discussion" of baseball, an inevitable occurrence when Warren sports enthusiasts get together, and Peebles has some fine baseball movies which he will show.

The baseball "session" will be concluded in time for all to view the usual Friday night TV fight cards.

10 Young Riflemen Represent Warren In Regional Shoot

Two teams representing Warren borough school rifle clubs are entered in competition at the annual regional shoot at Wellsville, N. Y., Saturday, ten young riflemen and their drivers to take off from Beaty Junior High School at 6:00 a. m.

B. L. Hook, Clarendon RD 1, will drive one car containing members of the Warren High School club, his son, Ronnie Hook, Wayne Smetanka, Darrell Johnson, Wilbur Johnson and Dick Schuler.

E. Ross Carlson, Beaty instructor, will drive the second car, taking from his club Robert Benze, Dennis Littlefield, Norman Main, Tom Crooks and Jim Smith.

Dykes Is Favorite Over Ted Murray In Contest Tonight

New York, April 25—(AP)—Welterweight contender Bobby Dykes is a 2½ to 1 favorite to start a new winning streak tonight at Ted Murray's expense in the top ten rounder at St. Nicholas arena.

On the basis of their record, the 26-year old Murray doesn't appear to have much of a chance against the lanky Texana who now calls Miami his home. But the 22-year-old Dykes has a tendency to loaf and get careless against lightly regarded opponents and often needs to rally to win. The New York negro, with everything to gain, should wage an aggressive battle.

Dykes has a 73-7-5 record in 85 pro fights. He has won 40 of his 73 on knockouts and was stopped only once, by John Bratton in one round.

Since his return to action in 1950 Murray has lost only two of 12 starts. His lifetime record for 35 fights is 20-14-1. He never was stopped.

Board of Review on Monday; Fishing Hike Planned for Scouts

The regular meeting of Troop 25, Boy Scouts, was held in the Scout Room Wednesday evening, opened by Patrol Leader Robert Burlingame, with the pledge to the flag and Scout oath.

A game was played, "Blind Man Swat-Bum" after which a short business session was held. This centered on the Board of Review which will be held Monday evening, April 28th.

The Explorer crew will meet Tuesday evening, and it is hoped every Explorer will attend. It is very important they do, as it pertains to the re-organizing and registering as an Explorer Post.

The Troop also planned an overnight fishing hike for Friday May 2nd. Following the meeting two of the Scouts remained to be passed by the Scout Master to the rank of tenderfoot. They were Merle Slack, and Alfred Heeter.

PROGRAM FOR TALENT SHOW THIS EVENING

Appearing in the To-Mo-Da talent show at the high school auditorium at 7:30 this evening will be performers for all three high school classes.

For the sophomores, the German Band will play and Carol Douglas will sing; Marlene Johnson will do a phono-mimic of Betty Hutton, Donald Smith will sing, Gerald Klencik and Douglas Hetrick will play a piano duet for the juniors; while the senior talent will be a quartet. The Four C's, the Ridge Runners, and Nan Hetherington, also a phono-mimic.

Student Council, sponsor of the show, and the advisers, Jean Spencer and E. R. McLaughlin, will welcome the public to the entertainment, especially the parents of students appearing in the talent show. There will be a small admission charge, and tickets may be purchased at the door. A movie and dance are also on the agenda for the evening.

HITS PARKED CAR

City police last evening arrested a local motorist and stated that he will be arrested on a summary offense of failure to stop at the scene of an accident. It is alleged he sideswiped a car while driving east on Pennsylvania avenue, between Market and East streets.

Passing motorists, secured the license number and reported the incident to the police, who traced the driver to his home about a half hour later.

TRUCKER ARRESTED

Police apprehended another overweight truck this morning and charged the driver with transporting a load more than 10% over the legal limit. He will pay a fine of $50 and costs.

Clarendon VFW Is Planning Poppy Day And Aiding Orphans

A large attendance of members of Marshall Larson Post 314, Veterans of Foreign Wars, featured last night's regular monthly meeting at the Post Home in Clarendon. Patsy F. Valone, newly elected Commander, presided.

Committeemen reporting at last night's meeting were Richard, Buddy Poppy chairman, and John E. Wykoff, in charge of the fund raising campaign conducted by the Post in behalf of the Northwestern County Council orphans' cottage fund. Mr. Larson reported that all supplies are in readiness for the annual VFW Buddy Poppy Day in Clarendon borough and Mead township. Mr. Wykoff had an encouraging report on the fund drive.

The large turn-out last night voted unanimously to support Lloyd O. Knight and Marion J. Walker in the coming Council elections at Bradford, May 4.

Members of Post 314 expressed their appreciation to Howard E. Thompson, immediate Past Commander, for a job well done and presented him a Past Commander's cap, pin and citation of honor. Joseph F. Montore made the presentation on behalf of the Post.

Commander Valone stated that tickets for the Cleveland-Yankee baseball game, June 15, will be available only to social and Post 314 members, and information is available at the Post Home.

Following the meeting, luncheon was served by capable VFW KP's Byron P. Larson and Robert A. Cunningham.

Summer Stock To Be Presented In The Y M C A Annex

The summer stock productions of the newly organized Arena Theater will be presented in the Y.M.C.A. annex under nearly perfect staging conditions, according to Richard Rapp, the theater's director.

Mr. Rapp reported that through the cooperation and the generosity of the Y.M.C.A. officials and the Youth Canteen board of directors, the annex was made available to the Arena Theater organizers so that its first season of summer entertainment could be presented with a low auditorium overhead.

It was the original intent of the theater group to present its plays under canvas but because of a late start in initiating the project the promoters found it impossible to obtain a suitable tent for this summer. Therefore, a search was made for a location in town with the thought that in future seasons the theater might be moved under a big top.

Mr. Rapp, after an inspection of the Y annex facilities, was enthusiastic in its selection for the theater site. He said that the spacious and newly decorated building would easily adapt itself to the arena style and that there are over 200 new and comfortable seats on hand.

The building also can be air-cooled for hot summer evenings; electricity and a public address system are available; and a refreshment stand is already a part of the equipment. The refreshment stand will be operated by the Youth Canteen members and all profits from this concession will be retained by the canteen organization.

Arena Theater officials were high in their praise of Y.M.C.A. and canteen leaders for their cooperation in making the annex available. Dan Walton, Y general secretary; Merritt Rohlin, canteen steering committee chairman, and John Stakowiak, canteen program director, met with Mr. Rapp and his assistants and then presented the proposal to the canteen board which immediately voted to lease the annex for the summer project.

Theater sponsors stated that so far everyone in the community who had been approached for help in establishing the summer program has been most cooperative and they feel that such a spirit will assure the success of the experiment and give Warren another worthwhile recreational activity.

What Does It Mean to Love God?

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

THE love of God was deeply ingrained in Jewish religion and worship, and was at the very heart of the faith and experience of the devout souls in Israel.

In the synagogue the recitation of the "shema," consisting of verses 4 to 6 in Deuteronomy 6 had a place similar to the regular use of the Lord's Prayer in Christian churches today.

We do not know just how, or at what time, the consciousness of His Messiahship and divine mission may have become a reality to the Master.

In the normal life of the boy Jesus growing up in Nazareth, attending the synagogue "as His custom was" (Luke 4:16), I have often thought of the thrill with which this 12-year-old lad must have heard from Sabbath to Sabbath those great commanding words: "Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God is one Lord: And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might."

I have no doubt that in the synagogue service, as in our Christian services, there were many to whom the worship was conventional and formal, to whom the recitation was a mere exercise in the order of worship.

To a devout and sensitive soul, however, the words were an invitation to a vast and limitless experience, involving all the man was, and all that man could be. What it means to love God is emphasized in the very nature of the command to love God with all the heart and soul, and might. Both in Judaism and in Christianity religion and religious experience is not merely a part of life; it underlies and dominates the whole life of the true believer and disciple. The typical prayer to God of the devout Israelite was, "Search me and know my heart; try me and know my thoughts; and see if there be any wicked way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting" (Psalm 139:23, 24).

And a typical Christian precept is, "Whether therefore ye eat or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God" (1 Corinthians 10:31).

But what it means to love God depends not only upon man's whole-hearted sincerity; it depends, also, upon man's conception of the God whom he loves. The pagan may be wholeheartedly devoted to an idol. Many a man has bowed down reverently to a God of stern justice and righteousness; but it is something more to love a God, who Himself is Love.

To love God is to love God's creatures. The Apostle John puts it very plainly in many passages in his Epistles. "He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is love."

What a world this might be, if the great multitude of those, both Jews and Christians, who profess to cherish the truth of the Bible, really put what it means to love God into their daily lives!

Eagles Lodge Here Given Certificate For Contribution

The Damon Runyon Memorial Fund for Cancer Research presented to Conewango Aerie and Auxiliary No. 313, Fraternal Order of Eagles, a "certificate of recognition" for contributions to the fund. The local Eagles donated $50.00 to the fund as a result of a Charity Frolic held on October 29, 1951.

The certificate was received from Walter Winchell, treasurer of the Runyon Fund and presented to the Aerie by Charity Frolic Chairman Fred Hamblin. Officers of the fund are composed of friends of the late newspaper columnist and author, Damon Runyon, who died of cancer in 1946. New York "Daily Mirror" Sports Editor Dan Parker is president, New York restaurant owner Leo Lindy is vice-president, and Arthur Godfrey is secretary, besides Mr. Winchell as treasurer.

Mr. Hamblin stated that the Eagles have aided the Runyon Fund for two years, during which time more than a quarter of a million dollars was raised and turned over to Mr. Winchell. "Eagle Aeries and Auxiliaries", Mr. Hamblin said, "have staged special charity frolics for the Runyon Fund and we are making plans now for more fund raising activities. There still is no cure for cancer and consequently there must be still more money for further research."

As a result of the Eagles' work for the fund, Mr. Winchell referred to the fraternity as "The Runyon Fund's 'Santa Claus'."

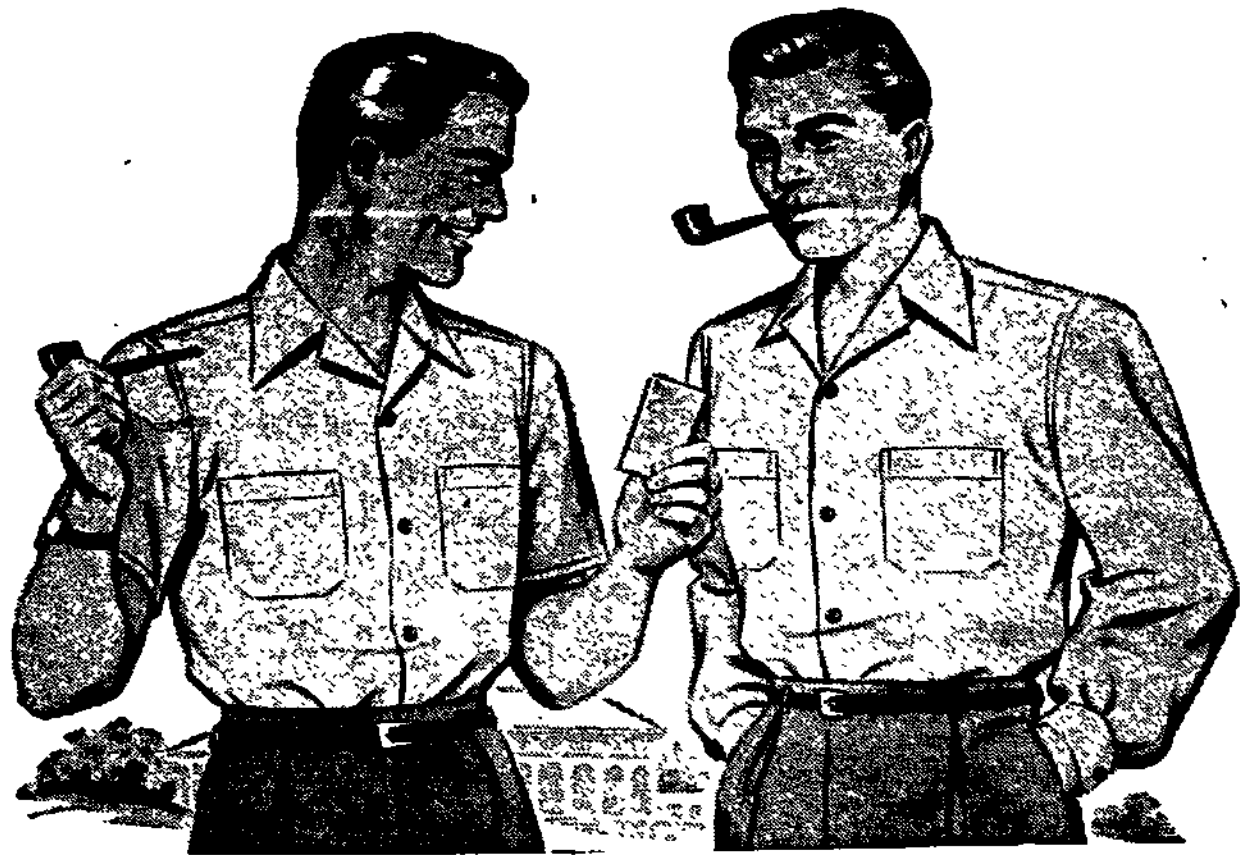

The Runyon Fund distributes grants to educational and research centers throughout this country in an effort to determine the cause of Cancer.

NOTICE is hereby given by the School District of Mead Township, that the Board of School Directors of said District intends to adopt at an adjourned regular meeting to be held on Tuesday, May 13th, 1952 at 7:30 P. M., daylight time, at the Washington School, Tiona, Pa., a resolution pursuant to the Act of Assembly of 1949, P. L. 598, imposing a tax of $5.00 upon each resident or inhabitant of Mead Township who has attained the age of 21 years on or before January 1 of the taxable calendar year, to be paid into the general funds of said District; the same to be paid and collected as provided in said resolution. Said tax being imposed by reason of the necessity for additional revenues to the School District to provide for salary increases and increase in operating costs of the schools, the limit of taxation on real estate and per capita taxes realizing insufficient funds for the same. The amount of revenue estimated to be derived from the tax imposed by said resolution is $3,500.
